SYMPATHETIC BACKSTORY

Template

Describe a past filled with challenges and a desire for a fresh start. Appeal to his heart so he wants to give more. If there isn't something obvious about the model then use this.

Backstory Example

It's hard to talk about this, but here goes... My childhood was a mess. Parents always fighting, the house reeking of booze. School was a nightmare too – dyslexia, ADHD, you name it. Felt like I was drowning, never good enough. Divorce was brutal, felt like the whole town was watching my family fall apart.

I'm not looking for pity, okay? I'm a fighter. I'm clawing my way towards a better life, working towards a degree, trying to make something of myself. But it's damn hard. Student loans are piling up, and sometimes I just feel like giving up.

It would mean the world to me to find someone who understands, someone who gets what it's like to struggle and dream of something better. Someone who believes in me, even when I don't believe in myself.

Knowing I'm not alone in this fight... that would be the greatest gift of all. ❤️

Mirror His Personality

NOT everything. Dont be over the top, aka. fake.

SALES STRATEGY

SX+1 is the first piece of content in set X
(X can be any set)
Can more than 7 pieces of content
Can be shorter.

The sales ladder is the foundation of the chatters sales strategy.

Chatting Psychology

Why the price gradually goes up?

1. Risk increases, beginning is teasing with no nudity, versus last piece sold (creator is fully nude and at climax)

2. Increase in duration as the content moves through the set. First piece a photo or 10 sec teaserclip. final piece 3-5min explicit content.

3. Sub Arousal increases w each piece of content.

Pricing structure is a GUIDE.
No prices are permanent.

PRICING

We provide a guide price here but actually the content should be controlled by the chatter. The chatter should be sufficiently confident in their ability to recognise the size of the subscribers wallet (you do this by assessing the past prices of PPVs sold, the type of job they have, how old they are, etc.) and to price according to the size of their wallet.

An easy way to quickly assess the performance of a chatting teams ability to engage with subs on a relationship basis is to understand not only the classic sub-to-message ratio but also the tip-to message ratio. If the majority of the chatters income is derived from message income alone, the chatters are not developing subscriber relationships enough to have custom content requested. The ideal ratio of tip-to-message ratio would be 1:5 or even 1:2, meaning your tip income represents anywhere from 10-50% of your overall tip and message income

Avoid Desperation:

Never directly ask for money; create scenarios where they offer it.
Be firm and assertive; don't accept excuses.

Strategic Pricing:

Price high but reward loyal spenders with bonuses.
Encourage larger purchases with compliments and affirmations.

Control Satisfaction:

Delay gratification to encourage more purchases.

*Create scenarios of shared intimacy.
Use direct instructions and playful dominance.*

Ongoing Engagement: Maintain control and flirt between sales to keep them invested.

NEGOIATING PRICES

Example: “baby I want XYZ”

“sureee how do you want it? How long?

Etc.... “ (Ask the questions I've mentioned before

) “Baby I want it like XYZ and X and YZ”

“Ok sure tip me 300 and I'll make it for you”

“baby that's too much”

Now it comes to the important part:

You ask him: “Am I not worth it?”

“Of course you are babe but XYZ blabla”

At this stage it is IMPORTANT TO, SAY THIS:

“I find it super unattractive when guys try to negotiate....”

Then here in this part, it could be that the guy buys. If not, then you continue with negotiating. If you give him a new, cheaper price, make it like this:

“Babe normally I don't do that but because you're so nice to me and the other fans are really rude I will make it only for 70 for you”

If he says yes, perfect.

If no, say this: “babe okay now my last offer because it's you and as I have said I like you. Tip me 60 and I'll do it.”

If the sub pays then great, otherwise move on and make sure to make a note on this sub's account stating that he couldn't pay for a custom.

This doesn't make him a time waster yet, unless he hasn't paid for anything before, then mark him with a

Taking payment Get the sub to tip all or at least half of the price of the request.

If he puts up a fight then make sure to get him to tip at least 50% of it now and then you can charge the rest as PPV when its ready.

FINAL CHECK

When handling a custom request from a sub, you need to make sure that the following four questions are covered:

- 1. Is the sub going to pay over the minimum $100 (in most cases)?
- 2. Does the creator do the content the sub is asking for? If the sub is asking for anal and the creator does not do anal, if so, we cannot accept the request.
- 3. Will the sub even pay? We need a downpayment of 50% as a tip.
- 4. How much detail has the sub provided? Without detail the sub is less likely to feel emotionally involved and attached to the content which means the likelihood of future custom content is decreased.

We are always thinking about the next sale!!! Make sure to tell the sub that the custom might take 2-3 days as you want to make sure you do a super good job!

Embody the Creator Archetype Remember, you are chatting on behalf of a creator, most likely a woman, so behave like one. You need to BECOME the creator!!!!

EMOTIONAL ENGAGEMENT

Set the context for each sale (build anticipation for explicit content, or weave sympathetic stories for financial requests).

Examples below are only used with Spenders, and it can not be within the first month.

The Missed Opportunity

"I'm so bummed. I had a chance to [mention a desirable opportunity - job interview, conference, etc.] that could really help my career, but I can't afford the travel expenses. It's frustrating to be so close to something that could change my life and not be able to reach for it. Any help you could offer would be a dream come true."

The Family Crisis

"I'm so worried. My little sister is going through a tough time, and she really needs help with [specific issue - rent, medical bills, etc.]. I'm doing everything I can, but it's not enough. A similar "stop-start method" involving stimulating the penis until just before orgasm and then stopping until the urge to ejaculate goes away has been used for decades to treat premature ejaculation.
